Dan, taking a day off tomorrow.

Here's an agenda for Wed morning re/ the alley situation, and all the back up I'm having April print.

April, attached is agenda for Wed morning. Please print everything – color and one sided (make sure you get the back side of the permits)

Lorin, can you look for me tomorrow and ascertain what they will be paying for their assessments in the new BID...I think it will be less.

Thanks

Thank you, Kerry.

Have you been able to find anything related to the formation of the EaCa Alley Association -- i.e. Board of Directors, etc? Dave said the BID might have records, as Sarah was instrumental in creating EaCa Alley.

Thank you,

Dan, I forwarded everything I had to David...we did everything for them -- created bylaws, and a membership list, etc. They never formed the association. I paid for an articles of incorporation filing with my credit card -- sent him that. None of that was ever followed up on. He says he has an association -- but it is not memorialized in any legal way. Nor does it meet -- with respect to including the totality of who owns property along that alley. And, the gate has been locked now for a couple months; its not being used.

From the perspective of what the city chose to do with CRA funds -- invest hundreds of thousands of dollars into creating a pedestrian alley -- the vision is not being realized. I think tomorrow we should talk about how to resurrect that. The revocable permits he has only allow for tables and chairs, and they specifically say they must be placed in such a way as to ensure 7 ft. of pedestrian access.
